

GOLD DUST.

"Housework is hard work without Gold Dust"*Care of Lamps

Many housekeepers think there is nothing to learn about the care of lamps, but if the little details here mentioned are adhered to there will be a great difference in the light. First, a lamp must be cleaned and filled every morning; the burners should be cleaned once a week, and the best way is to boil them in water to which has been added. Put a teaspoonful into a quart of water and boil ten minutes. The flues should be put into a pan of cold water and heated slowly until they boil, then take off and allow to cool gradually; this toughens the glass.

Gold Dust Washing Powder

The above is taken from our free booklet "GOLDEN RULES FOR HOUSEWORK." Sent free on request to

THE N. K. FAIRBANK COMPANY, Chicago, St. Louis, New York, Boston.

JINGLES AND JESTS.*The Imaginary World.

Some folks there be who say it's wrong to sleep instead of work;
They bid me toil with might and main and never, never slack.
But when I'm in my dreaming; when awake, I see what's true,
If I should get insomnia, I don't know what I'd do!

There are no dusty rafters in the castle's stumber rears,
And 'tween the apparitions which surround a couch with fears
All vanish in an instant, while fair prospects glide in view,
If I should get insomnia, I don't know what I'd do!

The thundering of cannon and the angry battle-cries Are lost to consciousness in one short dropping of an eye.
The crafty machinations of this weary earth are through,
If I should get insomnia, I don't know what I'd do!

—Washington Star.

The Poet Again.

Still farther wandered the poet afield and paused not until he came upon the

"The man with the hoe in sooth," sighed the poet contentedly.
"Why don't you call a spade a spade?" cried the farmer, with much heat and quite unreasonably.

For, although the truth of the matter was that the farmer was digging for fish bait, of course it was not to be expected that the poet would take cognizance of this.—Detroit Journal.

The Silent Hero.

We have heard in song and story Of the man behind the gun, And we all concede the glory Of the wonders he has done.
It's a very noble calling To arise with gun in hand, While the men like leaves are falling For the honor of the land.
But, remember, there's the glory, When the battle has been won,
To be praised in song and story As "the man behind the gun."

There's another sort of hero, And of him the poet's pen Never writes; he's but a zero In the book of "Noble Men." Not for gallant deeds in war, but Yet, with temper in command, He must suffer mental torment Nor so much as raise his hand, Though his enemies should blind him, He must let it go at that.
In the theater you'll find him; He's "the man behind the lat."

—Catholic Standard and Times.

Rather.

Yeast—See this suit I've got on?
Crimsonback—Of course I see it! What of it?
"Well, my tailor wouldn't let me pay a cent for it."
"What?"
"Why, I refused to take it without pay, but he insisted that I should take it as a gift."
"Well, well, that's rather unusual to have a tailor press a suit of clothes on you!"—Yonkers Statesman.

"I think I would go crazy with pain were it not for Chamberlain's Pain Balm," writes Mr. W. H. Stapleton, Herminie, Pa. "I have been afflicted with rheumatism for several years and have tried remedies without number, but Pain Balm is the best medicine I have got hold of."
One application relieves the pain.

What of the Mule?

I read about the heavy guns,
The heavy and the light—
The kind that weighs a score of tons And scales the koppe's height, And yet, it seems so strange to me, They write of merry Yule, Of fight and flight, of French and White, But naught about the mule!

How does he stand the battle crash?
Does panic seize him now?
Do both his heels together flash Upon the koppe brow?
Of course I like to hear the news Of wassail and of Yule, But, hope deferred, they write no word About the army mule!

—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

The Savage Bachelor.

"If you had been at the Browns' golden wedding celebration last night," said the sweet young thing, "you would have altered your views on matrimony."
"I wouldn't, either," said the savage bachelor. "If matrimony were not a fake, there would not be such a powwow raised over a couple that have managed to endure each other for a few years, and don't you forget it!"—Indianapolis Press.

A. R. De Fluent, editor of the Journal, Doylestown, Ohio, suffered for a number of years from rheumatism in his right shoulder and side.
He says: "My right arm at times was entirely useless. I tried Chamberlain's Pain Balm, and was surprised to receive relief almost immediately. The Pain Balm has been a constant companion of mine ever since and it never fails." For sale by Hannah Bros., 21 South Palafox street.

ROWDIES TAKE THE TOWN.

Drunken Men Parade the Streets and Defy the Officers.

HOT SPRINGS, N. C., March 28.—In a drunken row here last afternoon J. W.
Floyd, Guy Turner and Duke Lamb paraded the streets of the town with drawn guns, shooting every one who tried to oppose them. Jack Paris, deputy policeman, was shot in the face with a shotgun in the hands of Floyd. Hartsell Smelzer, also a deputy policeman, was shot. Richard Ralston, a bystander, was shot by Turner in the abdomen and may die. Chief of Police Rector shot Floyd in the breast and arm. Assistant Chief Daniels is reported to have taken to the woods. Sheriff Ramsey of Marshall was wired for assistance. He responded with a heavy posse, and after considerable trouble succeeded in arresting all concerned.

The town is panic stricken and all the business houses are closed. More trouble is feared.

Rules for Lent.

All the faithful who have completed their twenty-first year and who have not begun their sixtieth year, and who are not exempted from the obligation of fasting by sickness, hard work or other well known reasons, are obliged to fast on all the days of Lent, except Sundays.

On those days but one full meal is allowed, which should not be taken before noon.

Custom allows a cup of coffee, tea or thin chocolate, and a small piece of bread or a cracker, to be taken in the morning; and in the evening, a collation, not exceeding the fourth part of an ordinary meal, is allowed.
At this collation, butter, cheese, milk, eggs and all kinds of fruit, fish and vegetables are allowed.
When the principal meal cannot without grave inconvenience be taken at noon, it is permissible to take the collation in the morning and the dinner in the evening.

Abstinence from the use of flesh is enjoined on all the Wednesdays and Fridays of Lent and on the Saturday of Ember Week and on Holy Saturday.

The use of lard is allowed in cooking.

Fish and flesh are not allowed at the same meal, even on Sundays.

Eggs, cheese, milk and butter may be used every day, but abstinence from all of these is recommended on Good Friday.

Persons exempted from the obligation of fasting are not bound by the restriction of using meat but once a day on the days in which the use of meat is permitted by dispensation.

Children over seven years of age are bound by the law of abstinence, unless excused by sickness or other causes.

The paschal time, in which all Catholics who have come to the years of discretion are bound to receive holy communion worthily, extends from the first Sunday of Lent till Trinity Sunday, inclusive. Children over seven years of age are bound by the precept of annual confession. Pastors and parents should see that the children comply with this duty.

The holy season of Lent is a time of prayer, of sorrow for sin, of seclusion from the world and its amusements, and of generous almsgiving.

By a special indulgent granted to the bishops of the United States for ten years, dating from March 15, 1895, working people, who cannot easily observe the common law of the church, are dispensed from the obligation of abstinence on all days of the year except Fridays, Ash Wednesday, Holy Week and Christmas Eve. This dispensation does not exempt from the additional obligation of fasting, where such exists, nor does it authorize the use of fish and flesh at the same meal. It includes, however, not only the individual workmen in whose favor it is granted, but all the members of their families as well. In return it is expected that those who avail themselves of this indulgent will endeavor to enter into the spirit of the holy season of Lent by voluntary acts of mortification, penance and almsgiving. A most praiseworthy custom is that of abstaining during Lent from stimulants, in honor of the sacred thirst of our divine Savior.

Those who entertain any reasonable doubt about their obligation to fast or abstain, ought to apply to their pastor or confessor for advice.

Bishop of Mobile.
